Sue, Amber, Creston, and Marie volunteered to be on the nominating committee. This group is responsible for deciding who should be nominated to be officers on the Library Board and for asking these people if they would like to run in the board election. The election is in July. Nominations will be announced at next month's board meeting. Discussion of what the positions involve.

Thursday, May 22, at 7:00 p.m. the group will meet. Jennifer will create an agenda and post it to the public.

The fourth study room is now complete. The windows in the doors have been replaced. The door in study room 1 broke when it was removed and a new one has been ordered.

Tomorrow is the last day of Greenfield High School AP testing at the library. They have been using the library's Community Room for testing for the last two weeks.

The President signed an executive order to eliminate The Institute of Museum and Library Services. There is a large writing campaign going on right now to show support for libraries. MCLFS is asking libraries to fund postage for this campaign. Greenfield's portion is $115. Postcards being printed and provided to the library by MCFLS. The library can opt out. Creston stated funding should come out of donations and not tax dollars.

Jennifer met with The Palace Project, the last eBook vendor on her list to possibly replace Hoopla. It's a nonprofit, so they have negotiated better price deals. Creston hasn't received any complaints about discontinuing Hoopla from the public. One patron continues to call and complain about losing Hoopla to Jennifer.

Sue provided an update about the Milkmen game fundraiser. She presented a draft of a flyer and donation letter waiting to be approved by Greenfield Education Foundation President. Potential donors would receive both the letter and flyer. Milkmen have offered several options to grow attendance. Junior ROTC could serve as the color guard, and they could get group packaging so they can sit together. The Greenfield Middle School Choir Director is trying to put together a group to do the National Anthem. Sue is waiting to hear back from Whitnall School District about their participation.

Emily reported the staff has been busy preparing for the Summer Reading Program. Early registration for the Summer Reading Challenge starts Monday, May 19.

Emily has also been holding regular department meetings with the librarians and the Circulation Desk staff. These have been well received and have created a new line of communication between staff and management.
